Dear Mr. Cornwell:

Thank you for your letter of May 23, 1978, concerning appearance in the courts of this State on behalf of a client.

This matter is governed by Rule 13 of the Rules of the Supreme Court of South Carolina concerning examination and admission to practice law, which reads as follows:

“An attorney who has been admitted to practice before a court of last resort of another state, territory or the District of Columbia may, in the discretion of any court of record, be admitted pro hac vice to participate in the trial or argument of any particular cause in which he is associated with a member in good standing of the Bar of this State.”

The customary procedure is to have your motion for admission pro hac vice made by some member of the Bar of this State, and it is granted as a matter of course in every instance of which I am aware.

If I can be of assistance in this matter, please call upon me.

With best wishes,
Cordially,

Daniel R. McLeod
Attorney General
